

IN THE ABSTRACT

On page 11, please amend the Abstract of the Disclosure as follows:

A vehicle door, including a door structure, an equipment support structure [associated with pre-mounted equipment] which can be fixed to the structure, and a interior trim lining. The equipment support includes first and second rigid shells joined to form a rigid double-shell box structure, the outer surface of which is parallel and close to the line along which the window glass moves and the inner surface of which is equipped with attachment [means] devices for mounting equipment inside the vehicle door.